Oral demonstration of prototype alpha for the GTLM web service. Presentation will occur during the registered tutorial session in Week 7 of the semester.

Initial Front End Web Experience

You will demonstrate the initial functionality of your web application. This prototype alpha should demonstrate a functional system supported by HTML, CSS and JavaScript. It should be apparent from this prototype the integration of design ideas from Cycle 1, integration of feedback from the client, and a standard visual "brand" appropriate for your app. The app itself will need to be demonstrated live with all intended functionality operational.

During your demonstration you will need to have one group member "driving" the interactions while other group members talk about features, implementations/changes from the design, and the technologies utilised. You will also be expected to show your source code and clearly demonstrate good structure, formatting, naming conventions and code efficiency.

Before your oral presentation during your tutorial you will be required to submit a zip of your project to this assignment submission box.
